BIG SUCCESS WAS CARNIVAL

Attendance Exceeds Expectations and Receipts Go Over $1,000.00

The Harvest Carnival goes down in history as a highly successful event for the two days were perfect from a weather point of view and replete with all attractions of a real country fair. First St. West adjacent to the club house was transformed into a veritable "Zone" the entrance to which was an attractive gate gay with flags, evergreens and bunting while at night myriads of electric lights made the scene a brilliant one. St. Vincents band arrived promptly at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and after a concert in the business district led the way to the carnival grounds where the Fair was formally thrown open to the public.

The agricultural exhibits were displayed in the huge tent at the end of Joyland and while the display was not large it was commendable for so late in the season particularly the Sonoma Grammar School exhibit, winner of the N. S. G. W. silver cup. San Luis ran a close second for the trophy and predicts success next year.

Among the products display in the tent was a very commendable and artistic booth installed by the Sonoma Mission Creamery and here the famous butter and cheese of Vella & Icona brothers attracted much favorable comment.

Home plants and flowers had their share of admirers and across from the tent the poultry and rabbit show drew many judges of fine stock.

FANCY WORK DISPLAY

The parlor of the Womans Clubhouse was transformed into a wonderful booth wherein a display of fancy work and needlework was made which far out-shone the recent similiar exhibition at the State Fair, at Sacramento. The variety and extent of the display was wonderful and a credit to the collectors.

Among the unique articles shown was hand-woven linen of days gone by and an antique quilt 125 years old. There was also a handsome tatted yoke made by a boy inmate of Eldridge.

The State Home display was exceedingly handsome and as usual attracted the most favorable comments.

The girls of the Sonoma Grammar School are to be commended for their exhibit which showed industry and neatness rivaling the domestic accomplishments of our most painstaking grandmothers.

Miscellaneous exhibits of beautiful pieces proves that Sonoma Valley has skilled needle workers indeed and it was a pity that more prizes could not be bestowed.

JOYLAND

The attractions in Joyland held the interest of the big crowds afternoon and evenings. Many unique games and contests were among the offerings of the "Try Your Luck" booth in charge of Mrs. Wicker.

The Country store presided over by Mesdames Shepard, O'Donell and other Glen Ellen ladies aided by Mrs Emparan and Mrs. Parramore did a rushing business and made more than $200. Chief Geo. Cause of Boyes Springs and Mr. Chamber were star spielers and proved decided drawing cards. The Country Store still has a fine Duroc Jersey pig donated by the London ranch for which the holder of the winning ticket N 64 has not yet called. An Angora cat is also wanting to be claimed, 5 being the lucky ticket for the feline.

One of the biggest attractions in Joyland was the fortune telling in the Calderwood house and here B. Craig of Eldridge held forth with the seers and lured the crowds with his gifted line of talk and clever repartee.

The Childrens Playground with pony carts and diminutive donkeys donated by Dr. Temple of Santa Rosa for use at the carnival delighted the little folks and Mrs. Will Clewe and aides conducted the concession without single accident to mar the joyousness of the kiddies.

Home made candy, punch, ice cream and a Christmas tree all proved great attractions while hot dogs went like hot cakes and doughnuts and delicatessen were liberally patronized.

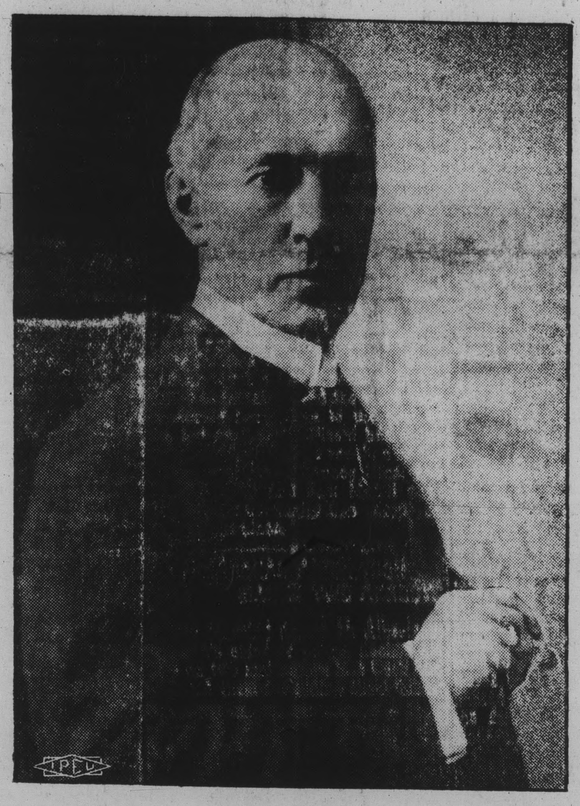

The High School girls had an attractive booth where aprons, caps and "eats" were sold.

The Knocking at Our Gate

THE KNOCKING AT THE GATE in Macbeth, was portentious of the subsequent tragedy and so the knocking at Sonoma's gates will be attended with disaster if we do not fix our streets and rout the criticism which is keeping our naturally beautiful and attractive city in a shameful rut. For knocks there are aplenty and everybody that comes into Sonoma these days over our rough, unkept roads, reviles us when they leave. We cannot afford this negative advertising. It is suicidal and we should speed up the movement to put in permanent streets with all possible haste.

The city has gone so far as to discover and adopt the type of road known as asphalt-concrete and is about to enter into a contract with an engineer and surveyor to lay out approximately four miles of fine highway within the city limits. The trustees should be encouraged and spurred on to action and from their present attitude, can be depended upon to submit the proposition to the people as soon as all preliminaries have been arranged In fact, some members of the Board are so determined that Sonoma shall have first class, permanent, streets, that they are even willing to go farther than a bond election, in case that should fail of the necessary two-thirds vote. The 1911 and 1915 Improvement Acts can be resorted to and property owners compelled to do street work if the city so decides. The trustees feel however, that a bonding proposition is looked upon with the greatest general favor and is preferable to the pay in ten years plan for there is no question that the entire town will benefit by highway connections and general improvement. The assessment district plan is complicated and might easily be invalidated. The bonding plan is familiar to almost everyone and outside of the objection that if we bond for a large sum for street purposes, it will preclude other improvements, there seems no valid argument against it. Proceed, City Dads. The Index-Tribune favors the bond plan and feels that it is voicing the sentiments of the community in advocating it as a means to get the up-to-date highway which is so urgently needed and will be the means of putting a stop to the old wasteful method of fixing streets which never stay fixed, are an eyesore and jar to the traveling public, and dust contamination to the entire community. Let us make the dust germ homeless and transform the street knocker into a broad-smile booster by 1920.

ACCORDING TO HOYLE, the genial District Attorney, we are getting $1,600,000 worth of highway in Sonoma County and that amount is properly exclusive of engineering and incidental expenses. In other words, Sonoma County voted to get all roads, all concrete and several yards wide. The engineering cost and overhead is being legitimately met out of the general fund of the county, hence the high taxes.

We did not all find the nigger in the wood-pile when reading the text of the county bond issue, but it seems it plainly said it was to authorize the sum of $1,600,000 "for the purpose of building and constructing highways in Sonoma County."

To some of us, building and constructing means just that, but overhead, it seems, is something very real, entirely different, legitimate, and something to be later reckoned with as our recent tax rate proves. Overhead is well named. It is over most of our heads until it gets there.

In recent state bond issues it amazed the tax payer who thought millions were voted for roads, to see the overhead cost and salaries, eating up funds while the amount of roads put in dwindled. We in Sonoma county are at least confident of $1,600,000 worth of highway but taxpayers will have to pungle up the salary money of the engineering force.

IF HIRAM JOHNSON got his ear to the ground and thought he got the right steer to stampede the nation into making him president, there was either something the matter with the shape of his ear or else what he thought was the anti-league of nations noise, was boiler shop politics. Hiram is limping woefully since his principal henchmen in dear old California have refused to accept him as a swatter of the peace dove and women disciples and classic Berkeley frowned down his ideas. Republican aspirants for the presidency who egged Johnson into the morass where he is now struggling, are chuckling over the way they ran him onto the siding where die many hopes and aspirations of imprudent candidates for national honors.

EGGS IN NEW YORK are about 85c per dozen and of course they must think the California hens are laying millions of 'em. Most New Yorkers are ignorant of the molting season but if they could see how dejected the hens look at this season, when prices are so high, they'd say the original producers at least are sorry. Some eggs of course are pickled, but wouldn't look well in polite society until the prohibition ban is lifted. Perhaps they'll come bobbing up serenely then for egg-nog, sherry and egg and the like.

THE WORLD WANTS WINE as a beverage and the United States, with a producing center like California, is only cutting off its nose to spite its face by ruining our growers and depriving the government of revenue through sumptuary, reformative legislation. That much should be apparent to everyone but the most pernicious pinhead.

GOVERNOR STEPHENS has ordered a Jap probe. He should order a pitch fork if the Sacramento Bee's idea of silent penetration is true. The Bee contends that the Japs are pussy-footing around this country, slyly getting in their work and forcing their propaganda and presence wherever possible. In time they will dominate.

THE LAND SHOW is of interest, but increased production evidently does not effect the high cost of living and will not until European farmers are again on their feet.

ONLY LAST WEEK, two prospective home seekers, most desirable and enthusiastic over Sonoma Valley climate, turned us down on account of our streets. Nuf Sed.

THE RAIN was blamed for causing a small wine grape loss. Nothing malicious about the rain, but since it is wet, it must expect to be jumped on now days.

MORE SWEETS are eaten when no alcohol content in anything is permitted. So the price of sugar avirtes.

SOLD WINE GRAPES FOR $75.00 PER TON

F. Picetti Gets What Is Believed Top Price For His Zinfindels Which He Shipped To San Francisco.

Prices for wine grapes have been going skyward since crushing time and where growers at the beginning of the season were accepting as little as $25 per ton, they are now getting $35 and $40 locally and as high as $75 in the San Francisco market. Picetti and Sons shipped a carload of Zinfindels to San Francisco last week consisting of 15 tons and Mr. Jack Picetti received a wire Tuesday evening showing the returns on his shipment to be $75 per ton. This is believed to be the high water mark for Sonoma Valley growers. Mr. Picetti's grapes were packed and shipped in his own boxes, on which the buyer put up a deposit of 25c each. They reached the city market last Sunday and were sold the same day. On Monday there was a slump in the grape market as the revenue men, startled by the feverish buying of wine grapes and the vast quantities coming in, began to take down the names of all buyers and intimated that the list would later furnish them with means of hunting down and prosecuting any unlawful manufacturers of grape beverages. This had a deterrent effect on many buyers and the price dropped to $55 per ton but at that figure many sales are being made and grapes reaching San Francisco are now being re-packed and are being shipped East as fast as cars can be obtained for the shipments.

There has never been a year in the history of California vineyards where the situation has been so tense and with the present big demand for our wine grapes, the growers would all be reaping a rich harvest had they been organized and not been stampeded and scared into selling at the minimum figure before the wineries began their crushing operations.

Sonoma Valley wineries are working to capacity and by the addition of fresh juice, the process of fermentation is held back and the manufacturers keep well within the law while holding their product for the hoped for lifting of the war time prohibition ban and all it means to California.. It is either ruin or millions. The wineries of the state are taking the great chance.

Grape buyers have been in Sonoma Valley for the past few weeks in droves and many buyers from adjacent counties came with trucks and offered to furnish boxes and haul the grapes away. Preference has been given local firms like Sebastiani, Sorini and Pagani however and they are taking good care of old customers

Messrs Chelini & Reith have had a carload of box shook shipped in the past week and have been furnishing boxes to those who sold them grapes which it is said will be shipped to Mexico.

W. F. Clewe has been in the market for 1000 tons of wine grapes for Rosenberg Bros. Co. of San Francisco.

MAKING A NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE AT UKIAH

Tribuno & Garrish Crushing Grapes Under Perelli-Minetti Process.

Word which promises to save Mendocino county's 6000 acres of wine grapes reached here from Washington, when Antonio Perelli-Minetti, general manager of the Tribuno & Garrish interests in Ukiah, received assurance from Washington that the manufacture of wine to be converted into a non-alcoholic beverage by his patented process had received the sanction of the government.

Mr. Minetti is the inventor of a process for de-alcoholizing wine and other liquors, on which a patent has been applied for, and which promises to save the vineyardists threatened by national prohibition. The advice from his representative states:

"Wine to be converted into a non-alcoholic wine, containing less than one per cent of alcohol by volume and non-beverage brandy may be manufactured."

The Tribuno & Garrish winery in Ukiah is crushing at the rate of 150 tons a day, with an additional 60 to 70 tons at the French-American winery, of which they recently took charge, and the first shipment of non-beverage wine was made last Thursday, consigned to the company's main office and warehouses in New York.

Extensive improvements at their crushing plant are contemplated for next year and Mr. Minetti declares that the growers will receive a larger price for their crop in the future than they were paid for the grapes for wine making purposes. —Ukiah Republican Press.

Mrs. Langhorne and daughter, who were guests at the Wicker home over the Carnival, returned to Alameda on Monday.

A NEW GROUND-EATER

And now comes the superplow. At least that is what Lytle S. Adams, of Nogales, Arizona, hopes his invention will prove. It is, of course, a power machine, operated by an engine on a V-shaped chassis driving nine spirals. The plow cuts twelve feet at one swath and leaves the ground thoroughly pulverised, plowed and harrowed. The plow can be drawn by any tractor. Using Red Crown Gasoline for power and lubricated throughout with Zeroline, the Adams spiral plow recently was demonstrated successfully at Tucson, Arizona.

Ex-Chief of Police Walker of Richmond was in town this week and called on his old friend, Eugene Malet Walker is now in business in San Francisco.

"POOR MAMA" AT CLINE THEATRE OCTOBER 16th

At the Cline Theatre, Thursday night, Oct. 16th, laughable Trixie Friganza, with an all star cast. will offer local theatre-goers Elmer Harris' newest and greatest musical farce "Poor Mama." In this comedy Trixie portrays a widow with five children posing as an unmarried woman, the resulting complications giving unlimited opportunities for laughter. She is a woman of forty-two, a little bit too old to be kittenish and is, and a little bit too young to be careful and isn't. The best way to learn all about the story is to see the piece.

Miss Friganza's manager, Thomas O'Day, has done everything possible to surround Trixie with everything that is right, this applies to scenery, costumes and cast.

Seat sale Monday, Oct. 13th at 10.00 a. m. at theatre office. Mail orders now. Prices, .50c, $1.00, $1.50

SHOE STRING GRAPE-BUYER IS LEGALLY TANGLED

C. N. Johnson, a genial and shrewd buyer and shipper of grapes and other farm products, is in the Calistoga jail today after his arrest by Sheriff Petray at Cloverdale Wednesday on charges of issuing checks on a bank in which he had no funds.

Johnson was also in trouble at Cloverdale for issuing worthless paper, it is reported, and his automobile was attached by persons who claimed to have been stung on his checks.

Johnson, who is 46 years of age, and was accompanied by an attractive woman, said to be his wife, was arrested at Cloverdale on a Fresno warrant sent to Calistoga, and Johnson was turned over by the Sheriff to Constable D. F. Power of Calistoga to be taken there.

It is asserted that Johnson purchased several hundred tons of grapes in the northern part of the county for shipment to Fresno, paying $30 a ton for the grapes with checks that are declared to have been worthless.

Johnson acknowledges that the checks have been returned for lack of funds in the bank, but declares that he had the assurance of his attorney in Fresno that all checks would be made good. The attorney, Johnson said, was backing him in his buying campaign, from which both expected to derive considerable profit. Johnson believes the attorney backed out and left him to face the trouble, and acknowledges that he was buying on a shoestring bank account. He is confident that he will be cleared of all criminal intent when his case comes to trial. —Democrat.

VINEBURG

On a week ago Tuesday last "Ren" Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Vernon of north Vineburg returned home after 2 years absence on duty for Uncle Sam under the "Star Spangled Banner" and his hosts of friends in Sonoma Valley were delighted to see him back safe and sound and consider it an honor to shake hands with the gallant young soldier. During his absence "Ren" has seen active service in Belgium, France, England and Germany and after many thrilling experiences "Over There" his division was last to leave the Rhine and landed in U. S .in time to take part in the reception of General Pershing in New York and Washington, D. C. Ren says there is no place like the "Valley of the Moon" "Sweet Sublime Sonoma Valley."

Grape picking has started in this vicinity and most of the grapes picked are being shipped to different points. The problem that now faces the wine men is "to crush or not to crush." But they will crush and make grape juice that's all.

A straight carload of Sperry's Sure Lay Egg Food arrived at Batto's spur on Tuesday last and from now on the hens are bound to get busy. Poultry knows a good thing.

On last Monday evening Mr. Dominick Colli, the well known poultry mon of North Vineburg tendered a "Smoker" to several of his friends at his pretty home "Bird Nest Cottage

The guests of honor were Messrs Oscar Studley, Dick Vernon and Leonard Thomas all who have seen service across the big pond. Much regret was experienced at the non-appearance of Ren Vernon and Al Groskopf both gentlemen being unable to be present. But all the same there was a swell time. Mr. Colli the genial host could not do enough for his guests and the table was a dream. Jim Small favored the company with a few vocal selections. Among those present were, Messrs, Dick Vernon, Leonard Thomas, Oscar Studley, James Thomas, Ellis Vernon, Louis Volquardsen, Cedric Cutter, Jim Small and Dom. Colli.

A number of people landed in the burg on Sunday last, among them were a number of grape buyers from different sections all anxious for Sonoma grapes.

Mr. August Figone of San Francisco and wife are now the guests at the John Batto residence.

Jos. F. Groskopf of Oakland arrived on Monday evening after a visit to his family in the Oak city where he has been employed up to the time of the strike and is now the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groskopf.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto motored to Santa Rosa on Wednesday last and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bird returned on Thursday evening after a visit to the metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Coops were presented with a fine Native Son to gladden their hearts and brighten their home. The baby was born at the Hennessy Sanitarium in Napa on Oct. 1st. The young gentleman was pronounced a perfect baby by the doctor, and represents five generations, as his great, great grand uncle is still alive, hale and hearty at the grand old age of 96 years. The many friends of the happy couple wish that their first born will be a joy and comfort to them through life.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Potter, Mr and Mrs. Geo. Cassidy and Mrs. Al Stein are now enjoying an outing in the southern part of the state and it is said that they may go as far south as Mexico. Well of course I am well aware that Mr. Cassidy had some political interests in the Chinese Republic, but don't think he will "monkey" with our peaceful and progressive sister republic, Mexico.

ATTEND WEDDING OF FRIEND

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Adler and family went to San Francisco Sunday, where they attended the wedding of their friend Eugene Daly. Mr. Daly was married at St. Charles church to Miss Ruth Hamlin of San Francisco. After the beautiful ceremony at 4:30, the wedding party partook of a fine banquet at the St. Germain and later gathered at the Y. W. C. A. hall where 500 friends and acquaintances tendered the bride and groom a big reception. There was dancing and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Adler presented a handsome gift to the young folks and returned to Sonoma Monday evening with exceedingly pleasant memories of the wedding day.

enjoyed by all and the "Chicken" show Friday night created a furore. Mesdames E. T. Casson, Dodge and Appleton designed and made the costumes which were works of art and involved night and day labor. Those who put on the "Chicken" show were Misses Adler, Hansen, Lane, Dowdell Borrochi, Batto, Simmons,, Mrs. Hatton, and little Maxine Hunter. The prologue was read by Miss Shirley Ward and music was by Mrs. Fochetti and Henry Weber, Jr.

Saturday afternoon a matinee was also given, Mrs. Adler, head of the entertainment committee providing at all times splendid performances. The Carnival Ball Saturday night packed the clubhouse to capacity and showers of confetti added carnival gayety to the scene. Wilson's jazz orchestra played wonderfully well and everyone had a splendid time. About $100 were the proceeds.

ATHLETICS

Saturday morning there were two basket ball games. The first played by teams from El Verano and Sonoma, won by the former, and the second between a Petaluma high school team and a Sonoma high school team. Petaluma carried off the honors in a well contested game. El Verano won the football prize donated by J. K. Bigelow.

Several athletics events took place in the afternoon.

Among these was a tug-of-war, competed for by Sonoma, El Verano, Huichica, San Luis and Glen Ellen Schools. The prize for this event was two dollars won by Sonoma.

The high jump, in which were contestants from the the four schools, was won by Joe Felder for Sonoma; prize 50 cents.

The relay race in which the same schools, four runners from each contested, the prize for which was $2.00 was wone by Huichica and San Luis jointly.

The girls' 50 yard dash was won by Miss Clara Schwartz, of Watmaugh school, prize 50 cents.

The 50 yard dash for boys was won by Morris Manuck for a like prize.

The obstacle race, in which were contestants from each of the grammar schools, was won by Joe Felder the prize being 50 cents.

FESTIVAL NOTES

Jacobs, the candyman of Santa Rosa donated the use of flags and electric lights to the club women and his generosity was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Stoughton of the Foster ranch treated the band boys to ice cream at Clericis during one of the Carnival days.

The St. Vincent band boys won the hearts of all and the excellent music under their leader Mr. Knell was much applauded. They are to come again for St. Francis Fair.

HYDE TRACT OWNER AWARDED MEDAL BY GOVERNMENT FOR FOREIGN SERVICE AND HEROISM

Capt. Ford, U. S. N., who has a country home in the Hyde Tract and whose wife resides there, has just received a medal from the Federal government for service and heroism in foreign lands. The beautiful medal is one of many which has been confered upon Mr. Ford and is for service in the Mexican campaign of 1913.

As chief mate of the Flag ship Connecticutt he was at Vera Cruz and Tampico and in rescuing refugies and helping to quell insurrectionists he had many narrow escapes. He later served with distinction at Porau-Prince Hayti.

Upon returning to Mare Island Mr. Ford will be given command of "The Navigator," a big two stacker now undergoing repairs there.

Sonoma friends are congratulating Mrs. Ford upon the recent honor bestowed upon her husband.

HAD A "FINE" TIME

Chas. Ward and wife with another couple motored to the Valley of the Moon from San Francisco on a joy ride this week and feeling the fatigue of the journey over our roads sought solace in one of the new beverages recommended by "kick" specialists. Mr. Ward had a bump of pugnacity which the stuff hit pretty hard and he started a fist fight in the machine and a riot call was sent in to Sonoma's police. Chief Albertson responded and with some difficulty and after his coat had almost been torn from his back he succeeded in arresting Mr. Ward who was taken to jail and charged with disturbing the peace. Once there Ward refused to leave saying it was his first experience in the jug and he was going to stay there. He was finally induced to accompany the officer to Judge Small's court and there he was adjudged guilty and paid a $10 fine.

The joy riders returned to Frisco reporting a "fine" time.

UNIQUE SOCIAL FOLLOWS O. E. S. MEETING

Thursday night's meeting of Valley of the Moon Chapter, Eastern Star was followed by a unique social evening with many out-of-town guests present. It was an "Old Fashioned Night". Pictures of members in their infancy and youth were the basis of a novel guessing contest, there was an old time spelling match and fashions of long ago were presented by seven ladies.

Miss Edda Johannsen guessed the greatest number of pictures correctly Mrs. L. H. Golton and Mr. Pierce of Petaluma won out in the spelling contest and the following ladies won hearty applauses as they presented old time styles. Mesdames Sam Lewis, Chas. Cutter, McAllister, Golton, Burmester and Misses Goodman and McConoche. Powdered hair, crinoline, poke bonnets and bustles were in evidence and clever dialogue accompanied the fashion act. Music was furnished by Mrs. Munk of Napa and the entertainment concluded with refreshments.

ENGAGEMENT IS CONFIRMED

Judge Denny and Mrs. Agnes Ryland Are To Wed. Wealthy Widow To Become Bride of Jurist.

As intimated in the columns of this newspaper last week, Judge T. C. Denny, a resident of Petaluma, and Jurist of the Superior Court of this county, is to wed Mrs. Agnes Ryland, wealthy widow of the late C. T. Ryland.

The news was confirmed by the Santa Rosa press shortly after the Index-Tribune gave an inkling of the romance.

Mrs. Ryland is the daughter of the late F. Duhring, pioneer resident of Sonoma Valley. Her marriage some twenty years ago to C. T. Ryland, San Jose capitalist, was a society event solemnized by Rev. Father Ramm of St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco. Mr. Ryland was an invalid many years prior to his death and his wife was most devoted. At his death she inherited valuable property, carrying with it a handsome income. During the settlement of the estate in the probate court, an old friendship between the wealthy widow and Judge Denny ripened rapidly into the romance which has terminated in the engagement announcement.

Mrs. Ryland has been much entertained of late by the leading families of Santa Rosa and she expects to make her home in the City of Roses following her marriage.

Judge Denny has presided over the probate department of the Superior Court of Sonoma County for some years past and is well known to the people of Sonoma Valley.
